Walkersons Hotel & Spa, Dullstroom

Just 10 minutes outside Dullstroom lies an oasis: Walkersons Hotel & Spa, where rest and relaxation is recommended. While here, you'll have to keep reminding yourself you haven't been transported to the Scottish Highlands, but are rather still on SA shores, in scenic Mpumalanga.

LIGHT MY FIRE Prepare yourself for the fresh air that awaits you on this 800-hectare estate. Surrounded by awe-inspiring verdant hills, lakes and winding streams, Walkersons' double-storey self-catering Waterfall Cottage is the ideal spot to escape all of your urban qualms, and where you and your family can reconnect with the natural world. With five double en-suite bedrooms, an extensive kitchen, open-plan dining room and lounge, entertainment area, and vast patio, there's plenty of space for everyone.

COSY FACTOR Insider tip: claim the main suite as yours. It has its own TV, a fireplace to keep you extra toasty, as well as easy access to the kitchen to satisfy your caffeine fix. The cottage has another two fireplaces in the living areas for evenings indoors, as well as electric blankets on all of the beds, altogether eliminating the word 'cold' from your vocabulary. Of course, no trip to Dullstroom is complete without a bit of fly fishing, but a relaxing facial at the spa just can't be beat – especially when the treatment beds are wonderfully heated, sheltering you from the nip outside. The only way to top this experience is with a four-course gourmet dinner at the hotel's Flying Scotsman restaurant. The trio-of-trout starter and the strawberry panna cotta dessert are simply delectable.

COST? From R5 425pn Sunday to Thursday; and R9 135pn Friday to Saturday for a maximum of 10 people sharing the Waterfall Cottage on a self-catering basis. Valid till 31 December 2019; walkersons.co.za
